

Teaching Family Model Campaign

One of the primary ways that Adriel provides tools and resources for foster parents to work with children is through the use of the Teaching Family Model (TFM). The Teaching Family Model was developed using scientifically proven methods of behaviorism and provides effective, individualized services to children and families.

Each of Adriel's foster families have the opportunity to achieve certification in the Teaching Family Model. This process consists of conferences, training, and assessments. Currently, 38 of Adriel's foster families are certified in this model. Adriel's long term goal is to provide all of our foster families with the resources to achieve this certification – and we need your help to get there!

Adriel receives no additional funding or grants for this process. The TFM is such an important part of our work that the funds required come directly out of Adriel's expenses. The cost to support each family in all aspects of the Teaching Family Model is approximately $1000. We are requesting your help to sponsor as many families as you are able – currently Adriel has around 200 foster homes.

For each $1000 donated, you are providing the tools needed to help a foster family receive their TFM credentials and continue their development in the model. You are helping prepare this family to succeed with each foster placement that is brought into their home. You are providing the tools and resources necessary to make an impact on those children that are expected to come into care.

Joe and Kate McComb have been foster parents with Adriel since February 2016. They were certified in the Teaching Family Model for the first time in 2018 and again in 2019.

Kate explains that the Teaching Family Model provides guidelines and techniques that help to parent effectively and with confidence.

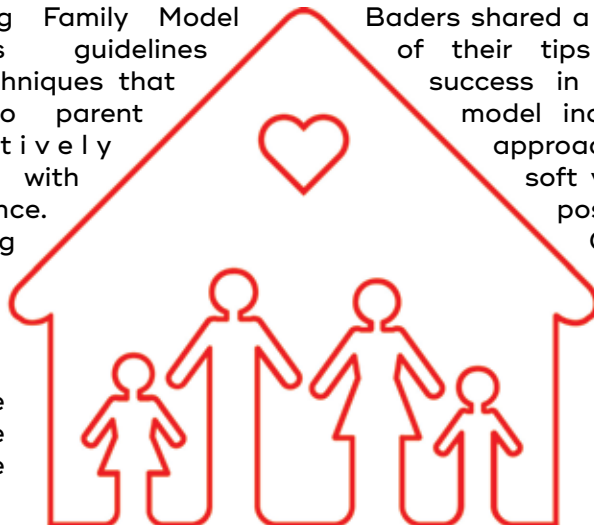

She also notes that the teaching family model communicates clear expectations and provides foster youth with a sense of predictability.

Your donation will help families like the McCombs continue to provide safe and loving homes for the children in their care.

At this year's Teaching Family Association Conference, Adriel foster parents, Joe and Kelli Bader received the TFA Distinguished Practitioner of the Year Award. The Baders shared a few of their tips to success in the model including: having an individualized approach to each child, speaking with a soft voice, being persistent, and using positive reinforcement strategies. Congrats to the Baders on your accomplishment!

Wills and legacy planning

Giving through your will is one of the easiest planned gifts to make. See how you can include giving to us as part of peace-of-mind planning in your will, trust and estate.

Donor advised funds

A donor advised fund is like a giving checking account. It's a great tool to make gifts of appreciated assets such as stock, farm commodities, or real estate. Include us in your recommended charitable distributions or set up an account for a flexible, streamlined way to direct charitable gifts to us.

Types of gifts

Discover new roads of generosity by making gifts of assets you may not have considered, such as stocks and bonds, real estate, life insurance, farm commodities, retirement assets, and even valuable collections.

Charitable gift annuities

Do you have savings you would like to give in the future, but from which you still need income? A gift annuity is a gift planning option that lets you share your heart for our mission, receive a tax deduction now, and also receive steady payments for life*.

Charitable trusts

Make a gift that will also provide you and your family income. Set aside and direct your assets to our organization and to your heirs - or even back to you - in a way that best fits your needs.

*Everence Charitable Services is administered by Mennonite Foundation and Everence Trust Company, affiliates of Everence.

*Gift annuity payments are dependent on the financial ability of the issuing entity to pay.
